NSPG News Update, January 2, 2019

Happy New Year to all from NSPG!

We just want to share some good news to usher in the new year - that Plasco Conversion Technologies paid us the entire amount of our 2018 interest on December 27th. The amount due was $781,815.

This payment brings our cumulative interest income, since Plasco regained solvency in 2015, to approximately $2.58 million.

Our Promissory Note from Plasco remains in good standing as to all payments due.

“The resurgence of Plasco Conversion Technologies is remarkable, both in backstory and the firm’s prospects,” according to Graeme Lowry, CEO of NSPG. “This income will augment our ability to contribute to our Balloon Reserve fund, established in cooperation with the Town of Blind River in June of 2018, for the purpose of building an asset to offset our 2037 final payment to the Town so that it can make its final payment to the CMHC.”

Receipt of this payment was a great way to end 2018 for NSPG, which was already a very strong year for us in project construction, in power generation, in new business development and in financial results.
